Go exploring together

Exploring the world gives your child the chance to learn, move and connect with others. What is familiar to you can be a new adventure for your child.

- What can you and your child see? Go outside, look around you and talk about what you see.
- Try out new experiences with your child to help build their confidence—take a ride on a bus or tram or visit a new park together.
- Play together with books, sand, music, paint—talk about them as you go.
- What sort of pretend games does your child like to play? Help them to explore—their imagination will take them places!
