

Let's have fun together

Let's have fun together

Your baby will show lots of interest in the world around them. Follow your baby's gaze and talk about the things that have caught their attention.

- What is your baby looking at? See what grabs their attention and start a conversation.
- When you're chatting to your baby, leave space for their responses and have conversations together.
- Does your baby have a favourite song, story or nursery rhyme? Share lots of these together every day and try story time at your library.
- Change your tone of voice when you're telling stories together—growly, silly, husky—and see how your baby reacts.

For more information, talk to your Maternal and Child Health nurse, call 13 22 29 or visit raisingchildren.net.au